

1 July saw the official opening of Citygarden, a three-acre sculpture garden and urban oasis located in downtown St. Louis. StudioDurham designed The Terrace View café as well as a maintenance structure for landscaping personnel at the garden. This year's AIA/CPC Design Awards, presented us with the Merit Award for Excellence in Architecture for the 60-seat cafe which, from its location in the northeast corner, offers panoramic views of the garden. This was an exciting enterprise and we were honored to work with The Gateway Foundation and to have a role in bringing this extraordinary project to fruition. 2 In their second annual Architect and Design Awards, At Home Magazine honored StudioDurham with First Place honors for the renovation of a University City home in the categories of Best Large Remodel (greater than 1,000 square feet); and Best Contemporary Design. The Studio was also awarded Third Place honors for Best Small Remodel (less than 1,000 square feet) for the renovation of a home in Clayton.
